“The Sixth Form at Thomas Mills has provided me with the opportunity to both expand my knowledge of subjects I enjoy and be part of a community. There is a real sense of friendship between the Upper and Lower Sixth and leadership opportunities offered to students allow us to have a significant role within the school. Sixth Form has been the perfect platform preparing me for university and later life.” Connie Jeffery

“The great thing about Sixth Form at Thomas Mills is the real sense of community. All students have a say in the events in the Sixth Form calendar, from Charity Day to the Christmas Party, and all voices are heard and respected. These two events are just two of the many opportunities outside of academic study the students organise and are involved in, which contribute towards making Sixth Form at Thomas Mills so much more than just a scholastic experience.” Cailin Phoenix

“Joining Thomas Mills in year 12, I was very worried about making new friends and starting A levels. However, the support from teachers and friendliness from pupils allowed me to settle in very quickly. I loved Sixth Form and mixing work with pleasure meant my two years at Thomas Mills have been the best so far, and I hope the friends I have made will stay with me as I journey through Canterbury University to study Events Management.” Nikki Gilbert

“My time at Sixth Form helped me to achieve the best results in my school career. The biggest surprise was in English – I thought Chaucer would be really boring and difficult, but the teacher really brought it to life and it turned out to be my favourite part of the English course. Whenever I found things tough, I found the advice given to me really helped and improved my confidence. But, the thing I will cherish most is the friendships I have made. I am going on to the University of York to study English and History.” Beth Hibberd

“Thomas Mills has provided the perfect platform for me to develop both academically and socially. Sixth Form gave me the unique opportunity to study the subjects I enjoyed, whilst mixing it with superb extra-curricular activities provided by staff and students. The Sixth Form has a real community feel, with Upper and Lower Sixth bonding not only with each other, but with the teachers too. It has made the transition to university very easy, and I am currently reading Biochemistry at the University of Sheffield.” Will Bultitude
