

Bridging the Gap

This is a list of helpful suggestions to help you bridge the gap between GCSE and A-Level 2020

Duolingo is a free language learning App. Use it on any device. Bear in mind, you'll get more detailed explanations on a laptop/computer than on your phone. Duolingo is fun, interactive and engaging. It will help you with vocab (much more authentic than GCSE), pronunciation, sentence building and grammar. This year's y13 have found it extremely helpful. This is probably the best thing you can do between now and the start of school. Do a quick entry test and off you go....

Netflix: There are a number of German series available and the following list has been compiled by A-level students:

Dark (mystery drama series)

How to Sell Drugs Online (comedy-drama)

Isi und Ossi (romantic comedy) This one is quite easy to understand!

Deutsche Welle or DW is a German public international broadcaster. Browse the website and you'll find a wealth of information about Germany in English or German.

New on DW: Over 300 video lessons and 14.000 exercises: German on the go

From A1-B1 with your smartphone or tablet, our new language learning courses enable you to learn German for free – on the go

This looks amazing too!
